

POSITION ANNOUNCEMENT
SCHOOL OF PUBLIC AND ENVIRONMENTAL AFFAIRS
INDIANA UNIVERSITY-BLOOMINGTON CAMPUS
Accounting
Non Tenure Track Faculty Position

The School of Public and Environmental Affairs (SPEA) at Indiana University seeks to appoint a non tenure track faculty member on the Bloomington campus at the rank of lecturer with expertise in the field of public sector and/or non-profit accounting. Preference will be given to candidates with a minimum of 8-10 years professional experience in the aforementioned areas. Applicants with high quality teaching experience in these fields are preferred. The individual selected for this position should be able to teach at both the undergraduate and graduate levels. The CPA or an MBA with an accounting focus is required. The appointment is renewable based on satisfactory performance.

SPEA is a multidisciplinary, professional school within Indiana University committed to excellence in research, teaching, and service and to addressing critical issues of public and environmental affairs. SPEA is one of the largest U.S. public affairs school in the nation with more than 100 tenure-track faculty on its two main campuses, Bloomington and Indianapolis. Faculty members teach required and elective courses in programs at the undergraduate, professional masters, and doctoral levels. The school offers degrees in public affairs, environmental science, public health, and arts administration. SPEA graduate programs consistently rank among the best in the country.

Review of applications will begin March 25, 2011 and continue until the position is filled. Please submit a letter of application, a teaching philosophy statement, current curriculum vita or resume, complete contact information, and names and address of three persons who could provide letters of recommendation electronically to speaact@indiana.edu or a hard copy to:
